

Sustainability Papers

The Centre for Sustainable Environmental Management (CSEM) publishes occasional papers on Environmental and Sustainable Management issues.

Globalisation, Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainable Development: and the need now for Sustainable Management and Leadership Prof. Ross King, Director of the Centre for Sustainable Environmental Management, makes the case for a new approach to Sustainable Management that is integrated with all business functions. November 2002
World Summit on Sustainable Development: SMART'ly Turning Rhetoric to Reality David Collins, Engineering Doctoral Student with the College of Environmental Strategy at the University of Surrey, analyses the commitments made at the World Summit on Sustainable Development, and finds that very few are specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and timely (SMART). November 2002